

Arena dos Mantos

Feature Expansion Proposal — Phase 2 Enhancements
Prepared by Yuri Silva · May 2026

Executive Summary

Following a competitive analysis of the Brazilian football shirt market — including platforms such as Alambrado, Brechó do Futebol, and global references like StockX and GOAT — five high-impact features were identified that would significantly differentiate Arena dos Mantos from every existing competitor. None of these features overlap with the current contracted scope.

Feature 1 — Verified Authenticity Badge

What it does

When a seller lists a Nike, Adidas, or Puma jersey and the SKU passes Google Custom Search verification, the listing receives a permanent "✓ Verificado" gold badge visible on the feed card, listing detail screen, and seller profile. Listings that fail verification display a neutral "Não verificado" label.

Why it matters

No Brazilian competitor offers SKU-level authenticity signaling. This single feature positions Arena dos Mantos as the only trusted platform for authentic jerseys, directly attacking the counterfeit problem that frustrates collectors.

Implementation

- Backend: extend SKU lookup endpoint to persist verificationStatus (VERIFIED / UNVERIFIED / NOT_APPLICABLE) on the DynamoDB listing record.
- Mobile: render a gold checkmark badge on FeedScreen, ListingDetailScreen, and SellerProfileScreen.
- Admin: allow manual override of verification status for edge cases.

Estimated Effort	Investment
2–3 days	R$ 450

Feature 2 — Price History Chart & Market Analytics

What it does

Each listing detail page shows an interactive line chart displaying historical transaction prices for the same jersey (matched by SKU or team + season + supplier + model). Buyers can see whether the current asking price is fair, above, or below market average.

Why it matters

This is StockX's most powerful retention feature. Buyers return repeatedly to monitor price trends before committing to a purchase. No Brazilian football shirt platform offers this. It also gives sellers data to price competitively.

Implementation

- Backend: create a PriceHistory GSI on the orders table, keyed by composite jersey fingerprint (teamName#season#supplier#model). Write a price data point on each completed order.
- API: GET /listings/:id/price-history returns { date, priceCents } array sorted chronologically.

- Mobile: integrate a lightweight chart library (Victory Native or Gifted Charts) on ListingDetailScreen showing min, max, and average price.

Estimated Effort	Investment
4–5 days	R$ 750

Feature 3 — Collector Profile & Showcase

What it does

Users who complete a minimum number of verified transactions unlock a "Colecionador" tier badge on their public profile. Their profile displays a curated showcase grid, a collector score, and a Follow button so other users are notified when they list new items.

Why it matters

Alambrado built its entire brand around a Guinness World Record collector. Arena dos Mantos can democratize this — turning every serious collector into a micro-influencer on the platform, driving organic retention and word-of-mouth.

Implementation

- Backend: add collectorScore and followerCount to the user record. Implement POST/DELETE /users/:id/follow endpoints. Add a follower feed GSI.
- Mobile: redesign SellerProfileScreen to include showcase grid, collector badge, and follow button.
- Notification: when a followed collector publishes a new listing, send a push notification via Expo Push Notifications to all followers.

Estimated Effort	Investment
5–6 days	R$ 900

Feature 4 — FIFA 2026 Special Catalog

What it does

A dedicated in-app section surfaces all jerseys related to the 2026 FIFA World Cup — national teams, official kits, and limited editions. A World Cup banner appears on the home screen. Sellers can tag listings as "FIFA 2026" during registration.

Why it matters

Search trend data shows explosive demand for FIFA 2026 merchandise right now. This is a time-sensitive opportunity — every day without this feature is traffic going to competitors. The 2026 World Cup is the single largest commercial event in Brazilian football culture.

Implementation

- Backend: add isCopa2026 boolean field to the listing entity and CreateListingDto. Add copa2026 filter to the feed and search endpoints.
- Mobile: add "FIFA 2026" toggle on NewListingScreen. Add dedicated Copa2026Screen from home tab banner. Add FIFA 2026 filter chip to SearchScreen.
- Admin: allow bulk-tagging of existing listings as FIFA 2026.

Estimated Effort	Investment
3–4 days	R$ 600

Feature 5 — Wishlist & Price Drop Alerts

What it does

Buyers can save any listing to a personal wishlist by tapping a heart icon. When the seller reduces the price of a wishlisted item, the buyer receives a push notification: "Good news! A jersey on your wishlist dropped from R$249 to R$199."

Why it matters

Users who save items return at a rate 3–5× higher than those who do not. Price drop alerts create urgency and convert passive browsers into buyers. This is the highest-ROI retention feature in any marketplace.

Implementation

- Backend: create a Wishlist entity in DynamoDB keyed by USER#:userId → WISH#:listingId. On PATCH /listings/:id/price, query all users who wishlisted this listing and dispatch push notifications.
- Mobile: add heart icon to FeedScreen and ListingDetailScreen. Add WishlistScreen to the profile tab. Display price drop delta in the notification payload.

Estimated Effort	Investment
4–5 days	R$ 750

Investment Summary

Feature	Effort	Investment
Verified Authenticity Badge	2–3 days	R$ 450
Price History Chart	4–5 days	R$ 750
Collector Profile & Showcase	5–6 days	R$ 900
FIFA 2026 Special Catalog	3–4 days	R$ 600
Wishlist & Price Drop Alerts	4–5 days	R$ 750
Total (all 5 features)	~18 days	R$ 3,450

Individual features can be contracted separately. Recommended starting point: Feature 1 (Verified Badge) and Feature 5 (Wishlist) for highest impact per investment, followed by Feature 4 (FIFA 2026) given tournament calendar urgency. I am available to begin immediately upon agreement.
